Innocent Man Who Spent 16 Years in Prison Is Finally Freed at Rock Island, Ill.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—An innocent man who spent 16 years in prison is free today because of a prosecutor's diligence and a guilty man's conscience.

The one year to life sentence of Roy E. Eaton, 52, was vacated yesterday in the same Circuit Court room in which he had been convicted in 1940.

Judge Leonard E. Telford issued the order after State Atty. General J. Moran presented a paroled convict's signed statement that he and another man had committed the crime for which Eaton was punished.

Eaton was sent to Stateville (Ill.) Prison when James L. Crooks, a soap salesman, identified him as one of two men who robbed him of $50 in Rock Island Oct. 4, 1938.

Louis G. Burrall, Davenport, Iowa, was identified as the other robber. He was not prosecuted because in the meantime he had been sent to a federal prison for robbing a post office branch.

At his trial and ever since, Eaton protested that he was innocent. He claimed he was in Lordsburg, N. M., where he then lived, on the day of the robbery. But he didn't have the money to bring witnesses from Lordsburg to Rock Island to support his alibi.

In the ensuing years, Eaton made repeated but unsuccessful efforts to be absolved of the crime. Moran, who had assumed office in the meantime, became interested in the case two years ago.

"After being convicted of Eaton's innocence," the state's attorney recalled, "I decided the man who could prove it was Burrall, who was paroled from federal prison."

Markets to Hope Good Meat Prices

By The Associated Press
Weekend shoppers with a sharp eye for a bargain will find a number of meat items at special prices in various parts of the national despite a slight rise in wholesale prices.

Prying chickens will be featured at enticing prices over wide areas of the country. Rib roast also will be put on sale.

One big chain is offering beef round roast at 65 cents a pound, 10 cents lower than last week, and beef cross ribs at 65 cents, a drop of 4 cents.

Sirloin steak is now being sold at 4 to 6 cents a pound cheaper in some big population centers although the price is generally up around 4 cents in New York City.

Once more, the wholesale price for meats edged up this week. But one food chain cut the price of lamb legs 4 cents a pound to move them along, despite a steady rise in wholesale prices this month.

Tourists Along With Some Tax Fleeing Dollars Creating the Biggest Boom in the Bahamas

By HAL BOYLE
NASSAU, Bahamas (UP)—Leaves from a touring notebook:

Tourists and tax-fleeing dollars are creating the greatest boom in the 464-year history of the Bahamas.

The first tourist was Christopher Columbus, who landed in these islands of eternal summer in 1492 mumbling, "India, I presume!"

Although disappointed in his quest for a shorter route to Bombay and Cathay, Chris was cheered to find the climate was balmy and the sturdy natives had neither income nor inheritance taxes.

It is still that way. Nassau for more than half a century has been a winter refuge for the wealthy few. Now,

Big Three Join to Find Middle East Solution

By WARREN RODGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—American, British and French officials who have joined in seeking a peaceful solution to the Middle East problem are finding the task a strain on their countries' traditional alliance.

President Eisenhower was asked questions bearing on what strain at his news conference yesterday, as the Secretary of State Dulles the day before.

Earlier in the week the magazine U. S. News and World Report published a copyrighted interview in which French Prime Minister Guy Mollet said at Paris.

"The Socialist-led French government has no intention of breaking its alliance with the British and the Americans, but it has the intention to say to both: 'If we continue like this we will lose the game.'"

Mollet was talking about the cold war in general, but made particular mention of the Middle East. Dulles declined to comment specifically on Mollet's criticisms.

But American and French differences over Middle East policy have been apparent for some time.

The French, with their hands full in North Africa, have had a small role to play. But they recently lost a diplomatic attempt to spread responsibility for supplying Israel with 12 French jet fighter planes.

They sent arms to Israel they would incur the wrath of the Arabs in North Africa.

But the United States agreed only that the 12 jets could be taken out of the North Atlantic Treaty allotment, leaving to the French sole responsibility for sending them to Israel. As of today, Paris still is delaying delivery.

Lone Bandit Robs Bank of $15,000

BOSSIER CITY, La. (AP)—A lone bandit today held up the Mid-City Branch of Bossier Bank and Trust Co., located in a prominent shopping center here, and escaped with about $15,000.

The robber, wearing a raincoat and badly in need of a shave, escaped on foot. He was believed to have entered a car parked nearby.

State Police threw up roadblocks around Bossier City and Shreveport police joined Bossier City officers in the search.

The robber held up the cage operated by Lawrence H. Nickel, assistant cashier and manager of the bank.

The bandit was described as about 30 years old and weighing about 200 pounds.

Chinese Reds Start Knocking Stalin Too

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communists have climbed aboard the anti-Stalin bandwagon with a denunciation of the cult of the individual.

Peiping radio said Stalin-like mistakes also had been made in Red China, but it did not give the slightest indication that Chinese Communist chief Mao zung-ing is in line for any trimming down.

The broadcast today was the first Communist Chinese endorsement of the Soviet campaign to denigrate Stalin. It said an "enlarged meeting" of the Politburo, ruling body of the Chinese Communist party, congratulated the "Communist party of the Soviet Union on its developments in the historic struggle against the cult of the individual."

Just as their Soviet allies had, the Chinese Reds said Stalin followed Lenin's principles in the first years of his rule but later "made erroneous decisions on certain important questions." The broadcast listed our such decisions:

1. He carried the "exterminating of counterrevolutionaries" to the purges to excess.

2. He showed a "lack of necessary vigilance" on the eve of World War II.

3. He failed to "pay proper attention to the further development of agriculture and the material welfare of the peasantry."

4. He "advocated certain erroneous lines in the international Communist movement, especially on the question of Yugoslavia."

Acid Tossed on Anti-racketeer Labor Columnist

NEW YORK (UP)—Victor Riesel, anti-racketeer labor columnist, was splashed in the face by acid thrown by an unidentified man early today. Doctors said he is in danger of losing his eye sight.

U. S. Attorney Paul W. Williams said Riesel was to have been a witness before a special grand jury investigating racketeering in the garment, trucking and food industries. He said Riesel already had given information to his office and "I regard this as an attempt to intimidate witnesses in the government's investigation."

Williams called FBI agents and the chief of his criminal division to an immediate conference in an attempt to get "a line on those responsible."

"I am g—d—mad, and you can use that quote!" he told reporters. The attack was made about 3 p. m. when Riesel and a girl assistant left Lindy's restaurant at 51st street and Broadway and prepared to enter her auto.

The two had gone to the restaurant after a midnight radio broadcast in which Riesel interviewed two members of a Long Island building trades union fighting the local domination of William C. De Koning, Jr., son of a Long Island labor czar and convicted extortioner.

NEW YORK (AP)—Labor columnist Victor Riesel was splashed in the face with acid by an unidentified assailant on a street just off Broadway early today.

A hospital doctor said he feared the newspaperman's eyesight would be impaired.

The attack occurred about two hours after Riesel spoke on a radio program, and he told newsmen at the hospital that the acid throwing "apparently was about my broadcast on labor racketeers in Long Island."

Riesel, 41, whose columns appear in the New York Daily Mirror, was assaulted about 3 a. m. on W. 51st St. near Broadway shortly after he had left Lindy's restaurant on Broadway.

His assailant—a young man—escaped.

A young woman with him was hit on a leg by a few drops of the acid. She was Miss Betty Nevins, about 23, Englewood, N. J., who assists Riesel on radio and television programs. She also was taken to St. Clare's Hospital.

Riesel's head and eyes were covered with bandages at the hospital.

He told police the acid was splashed on him a few minutes after he and Miss Nevins left the restaurant. Her car was parked nearby.

He said they had taken just a few steps when "a man called to me, but did not call my name."

"Then he threw something at me," Police said the acid hit the columnist between the eyes. Some of the acid spilled on his left hand and clothing.

Miss Nevins told police that the assailant was about 25, "nice looking, but poorly dressed."

Peace Mission Is Mapped by UN Secretary

By A. I. GOLDBERG

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld today mapped a mission to find ways to bring peace back to the Middle East.

Armed with unanimous authorization from the Security Council, Hammarskjöld planned to leave tomorrow to investigate the causes of tension along the Israeli-Arab borders. He is to report back to the Security Council within a month with measures to calm down Israel and her Arab neighbors.

En route to the Middle East, the secretary general planned to fly by way of London and Paris to consult with Foreign Office experts on arms sales questions and other problems.

He told the council yesterday, after it adopted the U. S. resolution to send him back to the Middle East, that he shared world concern over the dangers in Palestine area.

He visited the area in January and discussed the situation then with Israeli and Arab leaders. On his return he told newsmen he was optimistic that developments would avert war.

Soviet Delegate Arkady Sobolev went along with the rest of the council in voting for the U. S. resolution although amendments, the proposed were battered down in a series of votes. The Russian explained that the American proposal appeared to be satisfactory to the parties concerned.

After brief consultations in Europe, Hammarskjöld will fly on to Jerusalem for conference with Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, Canadian chief of the U. N. truce supervision staff. Then will come brass-tacks talks with the leaders of Israel, Egypt, Lebanon, Syria and Jordan.

Old suggestions of withdrawing forces or putting physical barriers along demarcation lines are expected to be explored again. Hammarskjöld must conduct his talks within the framework of the existing Israeli-Arab armistice agreement.

Hope Man Files $50,000 Lawsuit Against Railway

Texarkana — A 53-year-old Hope, Ark., man, injured in a train-car collision last year, has filed a $50,000 damage suit in Arkansas Federal Court against the Louisiana-Arkansas and the Kansas City Southern Railway.

The plaintiff, Berry Randle, seeks damages for injuries allegedly suffered January 28, 1935 when his car was struck by a train at a railway crossing in Hope.

He alleges that the injuries result in almost the complete loss of his voice and that he is unable to speak above a whisper. Randle claims the defendants were negligent in that the train was going at an excessive rate of speed and failed to sound a whistle or bell and that they also were negligent in allowing a hedge to grow on the east side of the tracks, which he alleges obstructed the view of motorists.

Wall Collapse Is Fatal to Six Firemen

By RAY KOHN

NEW YORK (AP)—A wall collapsed during a roaring blaze which gutted a Bronx factory building last night. Six firemen were crushed to death and 15 others were injured.

Fire Commissioner Edward Cavanagh Jr., struck by a flying brick, saw six of his men buried under an avalanche of debris. Five died as they reached a hospital, the sixth man died a few minutes later.

The five-alarm blaze broke out shortly after 8 p. m. in the basement of a one-story, 40-by-80 foot brick structure occupied by an artificial flower manufacturing firm. Firemen fought for 3 1/2 hours to put it out.

The crashing wall cut power lines and snuffed out street lights. Some 60 firemen battled on in darkness and choking smoke.

Cavanagh, saying the fire took the worst toll of lives in the department in 24 years, ordered an immediate investigation.

Firemen were scrambling up half a dozen ladders hoisted against the 25-foot-high roof when someone yelled "Watch it!"

A 20-by-15 foot marquee on the building, which used to house a movie theater, suddenly ripped clear and brought a large section of the wall with it. Then the entire front wall went down.

Ladders were heaved outward as the marquee gave way. Some firemen were thrown to comparative safety or jumped clear.

China Factions Trade Through Hong Kong

By DAVID J. ROADS

HONG KONG (AP)—A British crown colony is a clearing house for a small legal trade in narcotics, mainly between the two enemies, Red China and Nationalist Chinese, on Formosa.

Hong Kong businessmen who boast they will sell to anyone, merely shrugged their shoulders at a recent Washington controversy about trade between the Red and Nationalist Chinese. Such trade has been going on here for years.

Both the Chinese ship goods to this commercial city. The goods are stored in warehouses before reshipment. Communist and Nationalist Chinese buyers rub shoulders while purchasing their respective countries' needs—regardless of origin.

Products like camphor, citronella oil and nonstrategic chemicals can be shipped freely between the two Chinas through here. The Hong Kong government has made legal trade in strategic items impossible and is combating smuggling. Occasionally, revenue officers of the colony intercept Chinese junk carrying American-made case of kerosene for Communist jet planes trying to reach Red China after dark. The penalty for such activity is stiff.

Major items traded through Hong Kong between Formosa and China are listed below.

Mother's Blood Fails to Save Son

CLARKSVILLE (AP)—While doctors worked to save the life of a critically injured teenager here yesterday, a pint of blood was injected into his veins.

Earlier in the day, the mother of 14-year-old Johnny Pannell had donated the blood to the Clarksville Hospital bank in behalf of her neighbor. The transfusion would be enough to save Johnny, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Pannell, from dying of injuries suffered in a traffic accident.

Young Pannell and four companions were hurt when the car in which they were riding overturned near here. Two of the other victims, Jimmy Blackard and Jimmy McKown, were injured critically. Ray Hopkins and Ray Cline escaped with less serious injuries.

The boys, all of nearby Hope man, were on route to Clarksville to attend a high school football game.

Dulles Doesn't See Middle East Crisis

BY JAME SMARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Middle East is burning, but war between Israelis and Arabs hasn't broken out. Secretary of State Dulles says he does not foresee any crisis requiring use of American troops there.

If the need arises, he says, President Eisenhower will want to get the approval of Congress before sending troops unless there is an emergency which does not permit time for congressional action.

Dulles thus stated the right of a president to use troops in an emergency. The point became a sore one the last time a president did that.

President Truman ordered U. S. forces into action two days after the North Korean Communists attacked South Korea in 1950. Congress was in session at the time but Truman didn't ask advance congressional approval.

Shortly before announcing his decision, he called in members of the House and Senate committees which deal with foreign affairs and got their unanimous endorsement.

Eisenhower, then a general, said

China Factions

Red China include:
1. Citronella oil from Formosa purchased by the Communists — about 50,000 U. S. dollars worth last year.

2. Camphor oil from Formosa purchased by the Communists — about 50,000 U. S. dollars worth last year.

U. S. Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. touched off the controversy about the trade between Nationalist and Red China. He told Senate subcommittee March 28 that the Nationalists were shipping millions of dollars worth of goods to the Communists each year.

A few days later Hoover told the investigators he had been wrong. He said the State Department had no evidence of any direct trade between Formosa and the mainland, but that indirect trade in nonstrategic items over which Nationalist authorities have no control takes place through Hong Kong.

The controversy also turned up a U. S. government foreign aid report showing Nationalist China imported $1,300,000 worth of goods from Red China during the first eight months of 1955. Shipments to and from Hong Kong were listed separately. Foreign aid chief John B. Hollister said in a subsequent statement that the Nationalist imports from the Reds "were actually shipped from Hong Kong." He also said he had no evidence of any direct trade between Formosa and the Red mainland.

The decision was "inescapable," Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said. Truman should be given "overwhelming support," Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.) said the decision was a "damned good move."

The late Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) backed the decision but criticized Truman's action as a "complete usurpation of congressional" authority.

By 1952 the Republicans had made Truman's action a campaign issue. They said in their party platform:

"We charge that they (the Democrats) plunged us into war in Korea without the consent of our citizens through their authorized representatives in the Congress."

Last year when it seemed possible the Chinese Communists might attack the Nationalist Chinese on Formosa, or their outlying islands of Matsau and Quemoy, Eisenhower went to Congress.

He asked approval to use armed forces for the defense of Formosa if and when he thought necessary. He got it. But he didn't ask such authority because he felt he lacked power to do it on his own.

He told Congress in a special message: "Authority for some of the actions which might be required would be inherent in the authority of the commander in chief."

"Until Congress can act I would not hesitate so far as my constitutional powers extend, to take whatever emergency action might be forced upon us."

Stevenson Asks Embargo on U. S. Arms

ATLANTA (AP) — Adlai Stevenson wants the United Nations to place an embargo on arms shipments to the explosive Middle East in an effort to halt what he describes as the threat of war "in these troubled waters."

The candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination said yesterday that the balance of power between Israel and the Arabs should be restored and the United Nations should prevent either Russia or the United States from shipping arms to these nations.

Stevenson stopped off in Atlanta briefly on his way to Kingsland, Ga., for a short vacation. He will deliver a campaign speech Friday at Jacksonville, Fla., in his quest for votes in Florida's preferential primary.

He said the Eisenhower administration has not made it clear that it would not tolerate use of force by Israel or the Arabs in violation of the U. N. Charter or the armistice agreement.

"The Eisenhower administration," he said, "has encouraged alliances and Arab rearmament in disregard of tensions and animosities, thereby opening the area to Communist penetration."

"Ever since Secretary Dulles presented Gen. Naguib of Egypt a revolver just three years ago the situation has constantly deteriorated."

Stevenson said he had no evidence of any direct trade between Formosa and the Red mainland.

W. Virginia Float Is a Hot Entry

WASHINGTON (AP) — West Virginia's float was the hottest entry in last night's Cherry Blossom Festival parade.

The 50-foot float burst into flames at the end of the parade route. It was destroyed.

Judith Rice of Clarksburg, West Virginia's "Cherry Blossom Princess," had climbed from her throne, atop two papier-mache peacocks, just before the fire started. He was unhurt.

Firemen traced the blaze to defective wiring on an oil generator buried in the brightly colored float.

"War must be prevented, not only to save the life of Israel but because it would certainly spread. In my judgment we should emphatically reassert our fundamental friendship for both Israel and the Arab states and our desire to help them develop economically, even as Israel is now developing."

The former Illinois governor reiterated his opposition to use of force in carrying out the U. S. Supreme Court ruling against racial segregation. He said:

"Eliminating segregation in the schools of some of our states presents us today with a national challenge to show our maturity as a people. For my part, as most Northerners, I feel that the Supreme Court has decided what our conscience told us was right. I feel equally strongly that whether you agree with that decision or not it is the law and should be obeyed."

Pastrano Chalks Up Easy Win

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Willie Pastrano of New Orleans, eager to climb higher in the heavyweight ranks, today eyed a bout with either Joey Rowan or Chuck Speiser after hanging up an easy decision over Johnny Arthur of South Africa.

The smooth-punching Pastrano, 20-year-old native of the French Quarter, spotted Arthur 40 pounds in their 10-round bout last night and took home the easiest victory of his short career. At 180, Pastrano was the heaviest he's ever scaled and made the 230-pound Arthur a steady target for his talented left hand.

Referee Francis Kercheval and Judge Pete Giaruso each tabbed Pastrano the winner, nine rounds to one. Judge Eddie Wolf scored it a shutout for Pastrano. The Associated Press card scored it nine rounds for Pastrano with one even.

The decision was Pastrano's 30th against five losses and four draws.

EXTRA GOOD

because it's NATURAL

This is what continual use of acid-forming ammonia nitrogen without lime did to good farm land. Practically no growth. See the difference in the background, where crops regularly got natural Chilean Nitrate of Soda.

CHILEAN NITRATE—WORLD'S ONLY NATURAL NITRATE

A natural fertilizer is an extra good fertilizer. Not just for crops, but also for the land; not only for today, but for the years ahead.

And Chilean Nitrate is the only natural combination of nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor elements.

Natural Chilean works fast. Small grain yields depend upon the supply of available nitrogen when spring growth begins. A

Chilean top-dressing supplies life-giving plant food at the moment

Natural Chilean boosts yields. Its nitrogen is 100 per cent nitrate nitrogen, ready for the plant immediately after application. A top-dressing of 300 pounds per acre promotes stooling, rapid development, early maturity.

Natural Chilean fights acidity. Every ton contains sodium equal to 650 pounds of acid-destroying commercial limestone.

Sodium substitutes for potash and calcium, increases available phosphate supply.

Natural Chilean benefits crop and soil. It corrects acidity, improves potash, phosphate, calcium, magnesium and minor element availabilities. Chilean Soda is one

REASON WHY

COLUMBUS, O. (UP) — Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner was asked following a speech why he had not mentioned a proposed tax increase during his re-election campaign last fall.

"If I had mentioned that ½ per cent tax increase last fall, my opponent, Mr. (Joseph) Jones, who is at this meeting, would be the mayor and I would be out," Sensenbrenner said.

Oaklawn Park Repairs Total $250,000

NOT SPRINGS, Ark. — Improvements estimated to cost about $250,000 are planned tentatively for Oaklawn Park this year, Gen. Mgr. J. Sweeney Grant said today.

But, said Grant, the program hinges on the outcome of a church-led drive to outlaw pari-mutuel betting in Arkansas.

The program includes installation of escalators, construction of additional barns and enlargement and modernization of other facilities for patrons and employees. It would bring the cost of Oaklawn's expansion and rebuilding program during the last five years to a total of about one million dollars.

Installation of the escalators originally was planned last year, but the project was held up by the controversy over the renewal of Oaklawn's franchise.

If opponents of pari-mutuel betting get their proposal on the November general election ballot, Grant said, the installation of escalators would again be postponed.

The campaign against legal gambling, spearheaded by the Arkansas Christian Citizens Council, stemmed from efforts to block proposed dog racing at West Memphis. Such a move, if successful, also would have the effect of closing Oaklawn, the state's only horse race track.

Grant stated these proposed improvements:

CHAPTER XXXIV

Mike looked up at the faces of three angry men in the cellar of Gyn's. They were furious because he had permitted emotions to complicate his grave situation. They lashed out at him for forcing them to risk the daylight ambush. They demanded he turn over the Stergiou list insisting that he had bungled long enough.

Mike refused unless Lisa and her sons were permitted to leave Greece with him.

Michalis Thanassis and Dr. Thackeray were faced with the choice of executing both of them and losing the Stergiou list or getting the four of them out of Greece.

The beam of a flashlight pierced the darkness of the wine cellar. Mike could make out the stocky form of Michalis and the long thin form of Dr. Thackeray as they threaded their way through the

the north and south entrances.

Extension of the south entrance 20 feet to provide easier access to escalators.

Construction of two new barns, with 40 stalls each and tack rooms. Remodeling of the paddock to provide additional pari-mutuel facilities and more office space.

The program also includes work on the jockey's quarters plus the addition of showers and dressing rooms in the stable area for women trainers and attendants.

Oaklawn completed its 1955 season Saturday.

"Very well Morrison" Dr. Thackeray said. "A British submarine will pick you up within 48 hours."

"The children?" Lisa asked.

"They are safe. They will join you once we get you clear of Athens" Michalis said.

"If we get clear of Athens" Dr. Thackeray added, "Heller has the city closed tighter than a drum. Nothing can get through the blockade. You have only a 50-50 chance Morrison. You also have 48 hours to reconsider turning the list over to us. We will hide you and Lisa in the hills."

"Not on your life Dr. Thackeray."

"All right — we try for the submarine. I hope we can clear you out of Athens."

"Wait a minute" Mike said.

"Wait just a minute. I may possibly have an idea."

A short time later Julius Chesney drummed his fingers slowly on the table. He looked at Thanassis dubiously. "You make it very difficult dear fellow. If it wasn't for the money..."

"That's why I came to you with this proposition. I've heard of your love for drachmas."

Julius Chesney's jowls quivered as he emitted his nasty little laugh. "Agreed" he said.

"And half of what you collect from the Germans belongs to me" Thanassis said.

"Agreed" Chesney nodded.

"Here is the information to date then Morrison and Lisa Kyriakides are now in Athens. I do not know where inasmuch as I have not seen Michalis since he made the ambush. A British submarine will be here to get them sometime within 48 hours."

Chesney nodded.

Thanassis continued. "I will give you your route from Athens and contact point with the submarine just as soon as I learn it."

"Just how do you people expect to get them out of Athens?"

"That is the problem Mr. Chesney. I will not know until I see Dr. Thackeray or Michalis."

Chesney thought of the drachmas and laughed again. He extended his fat hand over the table. Thanassis eyed him with suspicion for a moment then shook his head.

Thanassis arose. "Remember" he said "half the money is mine."

"Tell me Professor Thanassis just why are you doing this?"

"Because they don't have a chance."

Chesney studied the harassed face of Konrad Heller. Usually the German was a picture of complacency but now he was tense and snappy. Zervos the diamond display case sat beside him.

"Get to the point. If you know something about Morrison how much do you want?"

"You are getting ahead of yourself Konrad. Very well. I am about to fall heir to complete information on his whereabouts. I want 50 million drachmas for the information—not a drachma less."

"Are you insane?"

"I'm liable to ask for the Acropolis too."

"Fifty million is out of the question."

"Then it is past my bedtime. You know the way to the door."

Heller fumed. Again he was in the clutches of the dregs of humanity. Fifty million would wipe out the personal fortune he had worked so hard to gather in Greece. He thought quickly. He'd force half the amount from Zervos — and he'd see to it that Chesney never left Greece alive.

He looked at Zervos. The fat man shrugged.

"He drives a hard bargain Konrad. We have little choice."

"Very well" Heller muttered.

"Where is he?"

Chesney laughed and cracked his knuckles and reached for the platter of olives on the table. "I may add dear fellow that you must move rather quickly. A British submarine will pick him up within 48 hours. And Konrad as an extra little bonus I will also deliver Lisa Kyriakides and her children at no extra charge to you."

The German snatched his hat from the table. "You will receive confirmation of the deposit by tomorrow noon."

Zervos was puzzled about something. "Just why do you want your money in Argentina?" he asked.

"It is like this Mr. Zervos. I

Omnibus Has Quit for a Few Months

BY CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Omnibus (CBS-TV) concluded its fourth season Sunday with a dramatization of the court-martial of Col. Billy Mitchell and a filmed study of the life of a jet test pilot. The home screen will be less enjoyable until this distinguished weekly 90-minute program returns in October.

A review of its programs in the past six months reveals an amazing range of subjects combined with a penetration of treatment that has not yet been matched on TV. The usual categorical thinking in TV programming runs something like: comedy, drama, variety, music. Omnibus annually ranges much farther and digs deeper.

Quite apart from the distinguished performances of many fine actors and the appearances of other nontheatrical persons who normally would avoid TV, the subjects taken up by Omnibus in 1955-56 included comedy, drama, variety, music — yes, but with a difference. Robert Saudek, director of the Ford Foundation's TV-Radio Workshop, and his inspired company of co-workers do not think categorically.

They took up such subjects as history, the Renaissance, a three-part study of the Constitution, Abraham Lincoln, the ballet, swimming, skiing, boxing. Their offerings in music, thanks chiefly to the appearance of Leonard Bernstein, were among the season's best. Their study of Harvard and the role of a great university in our time was superior to anything that has been done in TV on American higher education. It is not surprising that Omnibus has received 37 major awards since its inception.

There are, of course, two things necessary to any first-rate creative effort: concept and execution. The entire TV industry could learn much from the Workshop's approach to both. Its high level of production — or execution — is accomplished on the relatively small budget of $65,000 a week. So it demonstrates that a big outlay of money does not necessarily make a good TV program.

But it's in the realm of concept that Omnibus points up its greatest lesson. In the Workshop a group of people don't sit around a table and try to "think up" programs. Nobody says "Let's give 'em this" or "Let's give 'em that." Rather, someone—perhaps a person not connected with the Workshop — comes in and expresses his fascination with a specific subject.

There are many rejections and many changes, but each subject begins with a burning interest on the part of someone. This is the manner of all significant creation in all the world's art forms. Unfortunately too many of the programming ideas which come to view on the home screen are the result of uninspired categorical thoughts because somebody wanted to make a quick buck or fill an empty hour.

Strike Hurting Road Program

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas' summer road construction program is being jeopardized by a strike at the Lion Oil Co. refinery in El Dorado, says Highway Director Herbert Eldridge.

The refinery is one of the state's main asphalt suppliers. Road-building plans call for "more asphalt than we've ever used in any single year before," said Eldridge yesterday.

About 350 miles of road paving is scheduled in summer months, he said, and all the jobs require single or double asphalt treatment.

Lion Oil Co.'s refinery has been shut down since March 2, when the AFL-CIO oil workers struck.

Eldridge said the shortage caused by the El Dorado plant's closing couldn't be made up by two other major Arkansas producers, MacMillan Petroleum Co., and Berry Asphalt Co.

"If we have to go outside the state to get our asphalt," said Eldridge, "the price of the jobs will go up and we can pave just that much less mileage."

Urges U. S. Get Tough With Egypt

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Eden was reported today to have asked President Eisenhower to join Britain in a "get tough" policy toward Egyptian Premier Abdel Gamel Nasser.

British informants said Eden's request highlighted a personal message sent recently to the President in which he described the situation in the Middle East as critical.

The sources said Eden called for a clear definition of U. S. views and for coordination of British-American policy in the face of fading Western influence in the uneasy area.

Neither the British Foreign Office nor American officials here would confirm the report.

Britain has changed her mind about Nasser, whom she once considered a stabilizing influence in the Mideast. Now the British feel that Nasser—supported by Saudi Arabian oil fields—is fostering much of the anti-British sentiment as part of his ambition to lead the Arab world.
